SCHEDULED TRIBES

The Imperial Gazetteer of India, 1911, defines a tribe as a “collection of families bearing a common name, speaking a common dialect, occupying or professing to occupy a common territory and is not usually endogamous though originally it might have been so”. Another definition of a tribe by D. N. Majumdar is that “a tribe is a collection of families or group of families bearing a common name, members of which occupy the same territory, speak the same language and observe certain taboos regarding marriage, profession or occupation and have developed a well assessed system of reciprocity and mutuality of obligations”.

Article 366 (25) of the Constitution of India refers to Scheduled Tribes as those communities, who are scheduled in accordance with article 342 of the Constitution. This article says that only those communities who have been declared as such by the president through an initial public notification or through a subsequent amendment Act of Parliament will be considered to be Scheduled Tribes.

The essential characteristics, first laid down by Lokur Committee, for a community to be identified as Scheduled Tribes are –

- Indications of primitive Traits
- distinctive culture
- shyness of contact with community at large
- geographical isolation: and
- Backwardness.

Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Groups (PVTG)

Among the Scheduled tribes, there are some tribes who are more backward than others. They have been classified as Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Groups. They are characterised by

- Low level Literacy
- Declining or Stagnant population.
- Pre- agricultural level of technology and economic backwardness

TRIBES OF KERALA

Tribes of Kerala are said to descend from the ancient Dravidian stock with dark complexion and short stature in height. A majority of the tribes of Kerala build their settlements in the dense forest grounds and also on the hill ranges, mainly on the Western Ghats, bordering Tamil Nadu and Karnataka.

Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Groups (PVTG) in Kerala

In Kerala five communities are recognized as PVTG's. They are Koraga of Kasaragod district, Cholanaikkan of Nilambur valley, Malappuram district, Kurumbar of Attappady, Palakkad district, Kadar of Parambikulam, Palakkad and Thrissur districts, Kattunayakan of Wayanad, Kozhikode, Malappuram, and Palakkad districts.
